CITY TRUSTEES MEET

USUAL BUSINESS COMES BEFORE CITY FATHERS IN WEEKLY SESSION

The Board of Trustees met in regular session at the City Hall at 7:30 p. m., November 29, 1915.

Trustees Grist, Lane, Thompson, Tower and Williams were present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from Mrs. M. E. Carroll stating that she had leased her building at 425 S. Brand boulevard to Mr. Wah Lee for the purpose of conducting a laundry, and requesting that the Board grant a permit to conduct this business at that place. This was accompanied by an application addressed to the Board by Wah Lee making the same request. In connection with this matter, Mr. S. P. Stoddard addressed the Board, making explanations in regard to it, as the representative of Mrs. Carroll. The City Attorney gave as his opinion that the Board has a right to refuse to grant a permit for such business. On motion of Trustee Grist the matter was laid over for one week.

A communication was read from the Automobile Club of Southern California requesting permission to put up signs in a number of places throughout the city. On motion, the matter was referred to the City Manager.

The City Clerk brought up the matter of a certificate of title to the lot of the Verdugo Pipe & Reservoir company, in reference to the expense of the same. Upon motion, action in the matter was deferred; the certificate in the meantime to be furnished by the company.

The City Manager presented a copy of decision Number 2901 before the Railroad Commission of the State of California in the matter of the application of the City of Glendale to establish road crossings in said city, which was ordered to be read and filed.

On motion of Trustee Tower an ordinance amending Ordinance Number 201 entitled, "An ordinance of the City of Glendale regulating the construction, alteration, repair, moving and demolition of buildings and the use thereof, providing for the issuing of permits for same, establishing fire limits and providing for the demolition of buildings and other structures dangerous to life or property; and providing a penalty for the violation thereof and repealing ordinance Number 42 and all other ordinances in conflict therewith" by amending sections 21 and 22 thereof and adding a new section thereto to be designated as Section 78, was ordered to be read, and upon being read, the Ordinance, on motion, was declared read for the first time and ordered to be taken up for the second reading. Upon motion, the ordinance was declared read for the second time and laid over for the third and final reading at the next regular meeting. The City Manager addressed the Board in reference to a proposed bond election for protection work along Verdugo Wash and in Sycamore Canyon, suggesting the calling of a mass meeting to discuss the matter. The suggestion seemed to receive favorable consideration, but no action was taken.

On motion of Trustee Tower, an ordinance calling a special election to be held in the City of Glendale on the 20th day of December, 1915, and submitting to the qualified voters of the said city the propositions of incurring indebtedness for the acquisition and construction of certain municipal improvements, providing for the issuance of bonds therefor, subdividing the city into election precincts, designating the polling places and appointing election officers for said election, was ordered to be read, and upon being read, the ordinance, on motion, was declared read for the first time and ordered to be taken up for the second reading. Upon motion, the ordinance was declared read for the second time and laid over for the third and final reading at the next regular meeting.

The city manager presented specifications for installing wells and pit complete for the City of Glendale. On motion, these specifications were ordered to be read and upon being read, were upon motion of Trustee Tower adopted.

Upon motion of Trustee Thompson, the city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the work described in the above specifications.

The City Clerk was granted a partial vacation of two weeks, beginning December 1st, 1915.

Adjourned.

Miss Georgia Morland, formerly of Glendale and a graduate of our high school, is here from Arizona and will remain as the house guest of Miss Barbara Mitchell of Kenneth road.

ON A DESERT CLAIM

MR. T. W. WATSON, CITY MANAGER, TELLS OF DESERT CULTIVATION NEAR VICTORVILLE

"It would be difficult to imagine a more pleasant journey than that I took when I went on my vacation two weeks ago," said Mr. T. W. Watson to a representative of the Glendale Evening News. "Mr. W. G. Watson, my father, Master William Watson, my son, and myself, started out by auto to go to Victorville where I have a desert claim."

"We went along the beautiful state boulevard to San Bernardino. The road is in excellent shape and it is a pleasure to ride on it. A county highway is being built from San Bernardino to Victorville. Then an entirely new road leads from Victorville through the upper end of the Cajon pass. This road, the 'desert road,' from Victorville to the Gray Mountain district, is in much better condition than could have been expected."

"Victorville has grown wonderfully within the past two years. It has two new brick blocks; two garages and several hotels. There are also a number of fine new cottages on the west side of the town. The desert claim I took up a year ago lies about 18 miles from Victorville, in the center of the district known as the Victor valley."

"This valley stretches east and west a distance of 25 miles each way. All along this fifty-mile stretch are scattered cabins of settlers. Here and there is a homestead, showing a great deal of hard work. In the Gray mountain district water may be obtained at a depth of from 18 to 65 feet. This, of course, is not a permanent source. If one wants a permanent supply a depth of from 150 to 200 feet must be reached. Most of the claims have developed water in the shallower levels. As yet there has been but little of the deeper and more permanent water development."

"Among those who have nicely developed claims in this district is Mr. Crosswell, who resides in Glendale. He has 25 acres of nicely improved land on his claim. He is raising apples chiefly, but has a good number of pear trees also. These are the growth of the last two years. The soil, climate and elevation are all suitable for apple and pear growing. The Gray mountain district is 3000 feet above the level of the sea. It lies about 25 miles north of Old Baldy and is just 25 miles east of the Little Rock valley, which is famous as a pear-growing district."

"If one desires absolute rest and quiet this valley will afford them. It is absolutely undisturbed by extraneous sounds. The only living creature I saw on my ranch when I arrived was an old rattler which I was compelled to kill in the well we dug last year and which we deepened down to the water this year. There are no trees, but the usual desert vegetation is there. The yucca palm stands up gaunt and grim against the sky; the greasewood puts forth abundantly and the cactus here and there erects its spines. The rainfall in a year only amounts to 10 inches."

"There is a movement on foot to get the United States government to take up and carry out some plan for impounding the rainfall of the upper hills and thus make it possible to irrigate the whole valley. Engineer Lippincott, who was assistant engineer on the aqueduct, has reported favorably on the plan and Congressmen Randa'l and other legislators have examined the district and declared themselves in favor of such a scheme. It is therefore likely that we will have an irrigated district some of these days. Meanwhile I am glad that I went up to the hills for my vacation has given me strength and courage for the work before me."

RECEPTION FOR CONSTANTINO

On Thursday afternoon of this week between the hours of 2:30 and 4 o'clock the attractive home of Mrs. E. W. Kinney at 1223 West 7th St. will be thrown open to the members of the Tuesday Afternoon club and their friends, when this charming hostess and curator of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, assisted by members of the music section, will attend a reception to Signor Florencio Constantino, who so graciously and liberally gave his wonderful voice in song at the recent benefit concert in aid of the Children's Hospital and the Maternity Cottage.

Constantino will in person present the checks, which are by no means small, to Mrs. Albert Crutcher, president of the Children's Hospital, and Mrs. Wm. Baurhyte, in charge of finances of the Maternity Cottage.

JURY TO DECIDE HAMBURG-AMERICAN CASE

FEDERAL JUDGE HOWE REFUSES TO DISMISS CUSTOMS LAW VIOLATION CASE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Federal Judge Howe today refused to dismiss the indictment against the Hamburg-American Steamship Line officials who are charged with violating the United States customs laws by making of New York and other American ports supply stations for the German cruisers. The defense claimed that there is no law that can be shown to have been violated by their sending supply ships to the relief of the cruisers. Judge Howe said, "This case must be decided by the jury."

FRANCE DETERMINES TO SEND OUT BOYS OF 18 YEARS TO FILL GAPS IN RANKS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, Nov. 30.—It was determined today in the chamber of deputies to call out the drafts of 1917. The severe fighting on the west frontier has caused many gaps in the ranks that must be filled up. There was some opposition to the proposition, especially by the Socialists, who made a strong fight for delaying the call till March, 1917, but their motion was defeated by a large majority.

DEATH OF PIONEER — CHORAL CLUB CONCERT — BAZAAR PROGRAM

VALLEY PIONEER DIES

After an illness of some months, Mr. J. F. Dunsmoor died at Santa Monica Nov. 20. Mr. Dunsmoor was 77 years of age, a civil war veteran and an all-round good citizen. Before Glendale and Tropico had been christened, along in the early '80s, the Dunsmoor family lived on the San Fernando road near the Gai winery. Mr. Dunsmoor was one of the first school trustees in this section, acting in that capacity when there was only one schoolhouse in this part of the valley and continuing as such until there were three school districts in the immediate neighborhood of his home.

Mr. Dunsmoor was an active Republican in politics in those early days but was always to be found lined up with that portion of the party which objected to the influence of the Southern Pacific company in the political affairs of the state. He was brother to Chas. F. Dunsmoor, at one time county clerk and later bank commissioner; of Dr. John M. Dunsmoor of Los Angeles, and of A. V. Dunsmoor, who until a year ago for a long time owned the circulation route of the Los Angeles Times in this section.

Mr. Dunsmoor went from Glendale to Antelope valley where he was appointed postmaster at Lancaster, serving in that capacity for about 15 years. He was a quiet, unassuming public-spirited citizen, upright in character and of the kind that leave the world poorer for their leaving it.

GLENDAL CHORAL CLUB CONCERT A SUCCESS

Glendale again enjoyed a musical treat of importance in the program given by the Choral club of this city last evening in the Masonic hall, which was well filled with an appreciative audience who enjoyed each number.

Mr. Clifford H. Cunningham's baritone solo in the "Ode to Trygvaason" number was most pleasingly given and the chorus work was excellent.

Mrs. Catherine Shank, a soprano of the Italian school of music and widely experienced, charmed her audience with her sweet voice and wonderful personality. Her first number showed power and art, but the singer fairly captivated her audience with the collection and generous encore in her second number.

Mr. George H. Bemus' powerful basso of very low compass sang in a manner that pleased. Miss Whitaker pleased her many friends by her modest and gracious offerings at the piano, displaying a careful course of study. Her interpretations of all three numbers were well received.

Last but not least the chorus has made wonderful progress in their work under the directorship of J. B. Poulin, widely known as a musical director. All chorus numbers were admirably given. "The Sweet Little Girl and the Quaint Squeegie" showed excellent voice shading, and "Daybreak" beautiful melody. All other numbers proved the ability and faithful work of the choral members.

Miss Gertrude Champlain deserves creditable mention as an accompanist, always playing in sympathy of feeling and harmony with singers and leader.

REV. JOHN TROY GIVES INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE ON ARRANGEMENT OF BIBLE BOOKS

Lecturing Sunday morning at the First Baptist church on the arrangement of the books of the Bible, the Rev. John Troy made clear the following points:

Position—At the outset let it be understood that the Bible is accepted as God's revelation to man, the Infinite to the finite, the Absolute to the relative. The weight of argument for this position will, we trust, be contained and suggested in the development of the themes to be treated. After all, it is the deeply rooted conviction begotten of profound brooding over the Sacred Page which furnishes the best reason for the hope that is in us.

But what is to be understood by the word revelation? Whatever else the term may be made to mean, or not to mean, in these studies we shall interpret this important sign according to the following definition: "Revelation is a statement made in time and place, in harmony with absolute truth, convincing in the present, but demonstrable only in eternity."

The definition lifts the source of divine knowledge above the plane of the ordinary reasoning faculty. In revelation we have infinite speaking to the finite. In the exercise of human reason we have the finite endeavoring to comprehend the Infinite. Vain, however, is the reasoning of man in his search after God; for the exercise of the logical faculty is within imposed limitation, and the end of its activity is to harmonize all within that limitation. The limitation is materialism.

Method—Believing the Bible to be God's revelation to man it follows that man can receive the message from above, and that it is the divine intention that the Word be comprehended not only by the philosophers but by all who read with the eye of faith and the heart made pure. Therefore, we know of but one right method of Bible study, read, read, and keep on reading. Read it in order from cover to cover. Read it with an open mind—a mind emptied of preconceived theories and interpretations. Meditate upon the facts in the order in which they occur. At present it need not concern us how the Divine Library has come to us in its present form. Take the book as the publisher offers it and again we say read it.

To follow this simple method will result in a vision of the whole in correct perspective. Furthermore, Bible facts will come to be esteemed not only for themselves but also for the truth inherent in them; and the arrangement of events will suggest the truths to which they are meant to converge. Indeed, when all the facts of the Bible are properly focused, the truth shines forth like an eternal sun flooding all things with light. Strictly speaking the Bible is not a history. It does not contain even a full record of the Israelitish nation, nor does it embody a complete biography of the Christ. But it does present facts sufficient to reveal the truth concerning the past, present and future; the origin, course and destiny of man; and the nature of the Infinite mind pervading all.

General Survey—Without regard for the historical facts back of the arrangement of the books of the Old and New Testaments we proceed to study the Divine Library as it comes to hand. If upon careful perusal of the Bible we do not find reasonable evidence of design in the order of the books, our inquiry becomes a matter of mere research into the historical accidents which brought so many books together into one accredited volume. If, however, there is suggestion in the present arrangement of the books a transcendent psychological order we are justified in giving first place to the order without regard to problems of authorship and chronology.

But is there any well defined arrangement of the books of the Bible? Let us see. From Genesis to Esther inclusive we have alleged historical facts. From Job to the Song of Solomon inclusive we have books of meditation, that is, books containing philosophic inferences deduced from the preceding historical facts. From Isaiah to Malachi inclusive we have prophecy which carries the reader forward with a remarkable degree of certainty into the future. Turning to the New Testament we find the same general arrangement. From Matthew to the Acts inclusive historical facts; from Romans to Jude inclusive epistles of meditation growing out of the preceding historical facts; in Revelations prophecy which

UNITED STATES OF THE WORLD

Many of the thinkers of the world who are at the present moment directing their minds earnestly to the solution of the problem of a world's peace are inclined to favor a plan for the creation of a "United States of the World." It is seriously proposed to bring about a union of nations strong enough to police the world and to keep within bounds any nation which, under what pretext soever, should threaten to war on its neighbors.

There is something in the idea. A world's union of nations is not a difficult thing to imagine. In ancient days the people of certain cities had standing feuds with other cities in the same country and even fought against them. The little States of Germany were frequently at war with each other before United Germany arose under the hegemony of Prussia.

That, say a great many authorities, is a danger which must not be forgotten. It was not till recently that the full meaning of the hegemony of a fighting, military state to Germany and to the world was understood. Now in any United States of the World, say the experts, there must be absolute guarantee that no single state shall assume a leadership that would lay all the rest of the world at the feet of the union.

As time went on the cities ceased warring against each other; the different sections of the same country became consolidated and now there is evidence of the near approach of a time when the countries of the world will enter into a union which shall make for universal peace. One has only to remember the hundreds of independent states that existed in Europe at the beginning of the eighteenth century to see how a much greater change has been brought about.

Today the governments which can make war number 46. Of these 21 are on the continents of North and South America. If these or even the majority of them could be united in one great union for the purpose of preventing war, that great evil would cease.

As a matter of fact war is controlled by eight great powers—Britain, Germany, France, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Italy, the United States and Japan. These powers compose three-quarters of the world's population and dispose of seven-eighths of its armed force.

Naturally the union of these eight powers is at present an impossibility. It might not be impossible, however, to get a majority of them into the United States of the World and to have them agree to the policing of the nations so that war might be brought to an end. The idea, anyway, is a step in the right direction and the very fact that propositions of this nature can be discussed at the present moment is an indication of what the next generation will be doing, even if it should not be done in this generation. The world is seriously thinking of a "United States of the World," which shall perhaps at first enforce peace, but at last shall insure it.

FRANCE'S NEW MINISTER OF WAR

Many were the regrets that accompanied the departure of the old French ministry that had held on through the early stages of the war up to the present moment. The truth is that most of the ministers were worn out with the long strain and it was the part of wisdom to replace them with new blood. Not the least important of the new men is General Gallieni, the new minister of war. Gallieni was general in charge of the defense of Paris. He was confronted with a grave crisis when the German armies were within a day's march of the Paris fortifications.

Gallieni, faced with a serious crisis, did not abate one jot of his cheerfulness, but set himself to the task before him with all that capacity for taking pains which almost amounts to genius in warfare. The crisis was serious enough. The French government had fled to Bordeaux before the onrush of the Teutonic hosts. The fate of France trembled in the balance; when Gallieni swung into line his Army of Paris and, nearly catching Von Kluck in a trap, drove back the mighty horde, and in conjunction with Gen. Joffre and the others, beat the Germans across the Marne after a prolonged battle, each day of which, lasting into weeks, was equivalent to any decisive battle of the past 100 years.

Gallieni is plain spoken and truthful. He believes in letting the people know what is being done and what is going to be done. There is no military red tape about him. He is affable and approachable. His bulletin to the people of Paris at the very juncture of fate was brief and Napoleonic. It ran thus: "To the People and the Army of Paris: The government of the republic has left for Bordeaux to give a new impulse to the national defense. I have been ordered to defend the capital against the invader. That order I will carry out to the very end.—Gallieni."

This bulletin was like a trumpet-call to the French. They responded with enthusiasm to the appeal to their patriotism. They plucked up courage and believed that the French armies would drive back the invaders. Nor were they disappointed. From that moment a new spirit animated France. Now there is not to be found a French man or woman who would permit the least doubt that the Allies will win in the end.

Gallieni is a colonial. The French colonies, as in the time of Napoleon, have produced some of the ablest French generals of the present war. One has only to name three supreme names—Joffre, Roques and Gouraud. With such men at the head of affairs France has every reason to believe that victory will ultimately crown her efforts.

There is evidence that a new France has arisen out of the ashes of the old doubting and almost despairing republic. If such is the case it is to be credited to men like Gen. Joffre and Gen. Gallieni and a hundred others, the new set of the army. They insisted on military preparation, without which France at the present moment would have been under the iron heel of the Teuton.

What the middle west would like to have is a prohibitive tariff against Canadian blizzards.

TROPICO

The Tropico annual road race, given under the management of W. A. Chapman, Thursday proved a great success. Mr. Chapman and his able assistants, Mrs. Martha Hanshue and A. G. Van Wie, were greatly encouraged by the success of the race meet of last Christmas and entered into the work of preparing for the Thanksgiving races with an indomitable spirit that ultimately spelled success. Thousands of visitors thronged the race course long before the hour scheduled to begin the morning sports. The citizens of Tropico have decided to have a road race annually and last Thursday put on a card which for price of admission could not be excelled.

At 9:30 a. m. a field of 25 motorcycles lined up for the start. Three of the fastest in the country were entered but "spilled" and A. Hamilton, riding a Flying Merkle, won first prize, $25, and averaged 53 miles an hour. Gibson, on a Thor, last year's winner, won second, $15, by a pretty spurt at the finish, from A. Winkler, who received third place and $5. On an Indian, W. Gilhousen, winner of second prize last year, came in for fourth place.

Following the motorcycle races came the miniature motorcycle cars. Al Menasco, in a Simplex Zip, was a top favorite, but clutch trouble caused a delay. Furious driving on his part could not overcome the lead of the Pope-Hartford No. 7 driven by Cecil Truschel, who finished first, average time 48 miles per hour, who was given first prize money of $30. Al Menasco, known as No. 32, won second, $15, and third place and prize money of $10 was won by Frank Bierly, known as No. 19. Al Menasco won the smiles and admiration of many a group of pretty girls along the route who in turn gave a smile and for one group of smiling sweet sixteen's waved an oil-battered hand. Frank Bierly was known as the "clean looking" kiddie. Not a speck of dirt was visible on his carefully groomed person or on his car.

The big race of the day upset dope, as racing luck in the shape of a skidding car, put Waldo Throop, winner of last year's meet and a heavy favorite, out early in the race. Throop drew No. 5, the same number as last year. A so-called Duplex, one of the finest reconstructed Ford's ever seen, was the winner, covering the 50 miles at an average of 51 miles an hour. Mayzie won first prize money, $150. This was the first race of its owner, James Mayzie, who deserves and did receive merited praise for the fine car he drove, No. 6.

Consistent driving put Charles Heccock with a Cadillac, No. 12, in second place, winning the $75 prize money. Ray Pussegur, with a Ford, No. 11, came in third and received $40.

The Glendale entry was fine, but engine trouble developed and caused the withdrawal.

A Studebaker, No. 10, had a large following, but fourth place was the best for this favorite which was driven by Frank Lechluder.

The crowd, much larger than that of last year, was handled by the Tropico police department. The ticket sellers were all citizens of Tropico and Glendale. The only outside talent was the starter, Harry Hartz, of Los Angeles and referee, P. T. Hanna of Los Angeles.

Judges Harry Culver of Culver City and Vic. Thompson, a prominent auto man of Venice. E. H. Pendleton, The well known timer of auto races, officiated with his automatic timer. Much praise is heard on all sides for the splendid and business-like manner in which W. A. Chapman and his assistants handled this auto race, which featured the finest program ever given by Tropico.

The Better Thing

It is better to lose with a conscience clean
Than win by a trick unfair;
It is better to fall and to know you've been,
Whatever the prize was, square.
Than to claim the joy of a far-off goal
And the cheers of the standers-by,
And to know down deep in your inmost soul,
A cheat you must live and die.
Who wins by trick may take the prize,
And at first he may think it sweet,
But many a day in the future lies
When he'll wish he had met defeat.
For the man who lost shall be glad at heart
And walk with his head up high,
While his conqueror knows he must play the part
Of a cheat and a living lie.

The prize seems fair when the fight is on,
But save it is truly won
You will hate the thing when the crowds are gone,
For it stands for a false deed done.
And it's better you never should reach your goal
Than ever success to buy
At the price of knowing down in your soul
That your glory is all a lie.

PERSONALS

Mrs. G. Mills, 425 S. Louise St., has been confined to her house during the past few days with a slight indisposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters, formerly of Shelby, Iowa, will move into their new home on Wednesday, at 1415 West Third Street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Eddy of 1409 Ivy street have as their guest for the winter, Mr. Eddy's sister, Miss Leda V. Eddy, of Readlyn, Canada.

Mrs. K. K. Kelly has been moved from Thornycroft hospital to her home and is convalescing slowly but surely from a serious operation.

Mrs. Henry L. Legrande of 1442 West 3rd street is expected home from San Diego on Thursday, where she has been visiting friends for the past ten days.

Only a few days remain in which to purchase tickets for the charity ball. Don't delay any longer. Tickets are on sale at Crofton's Shoe store.

On Thursday Mr. Fred Gardner of Seattle, Washington, will arrive, making a short visit with his uncle and aunt, the Jordan S. Neels, at 1451 Salem street.

Mrs. Calvin Whiting was the guest of honor at an elegantly appointed luncheon in Santa Ana Saturday. She was the guest of the Misses Henry, 310 S. Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnes and sons, Donald and Harold, of Los Angeles, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Lane, 1432 Ivy street, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Tuttle, at 1417 West Broadway, had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hitchcock, Mrs. Bertha Higgins and son Master James Higgins; also Miss Vivian, all of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Rebecca Flint arrived from Las Vegas, New Mexico, on Monday of this week, to enjoy a brief visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Collins, of Los Angeles, and son, Dr. James Luther Flint of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barrows of San Diego and their daughter, Antoinette, were Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barrows, 443 W. Colorado boulevard. They returned to San Diego Friday morning.

Just two more days before the Templar's charity ball. Have you purchased a ticket and by so doing help to gladden the heart of some little child, who would otherwise be deprived of Christmas joys if it were not for the Knights Templar Santa Claus?

Mrs. Alex Mitchel and daughter, Miss Barbara Mitchel, are at the Kenneth road home for two or three weeks. Miss Mitchel, who is playing with the Monrovia Feature Film company at Monrovia, is vacationing at home while the principals of the company are doing scenes in the northern part of the state.

Miss Hedwig Wechsung, a young German lady from Wegesach, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barrows. Miss Wechsung, who has as yet but a limited acquaintance with the English language, sailed on one of the Holland-American boats. Her baggage was closely inspected and she was not permitted to take any written or printed matter with her. Even her music was confiscated. The voyage occupied 15 days and was particularly stormy.

The Glendale Knights Templar will be very popular at Christmas time as assistants of Santa Claus when they distribute among the poor children of Glendale the toys they purchase with the proceeds of the ball to be given at Masonic Temple Thursday evening of this week. The people of Glendale have been generous in donating all the expenses of the ball, contributing prizes to be awarded and purchasing tickets to the ball. There is yet time for you to do your part. The amount to be used in this very worthy cause depends entirely upon the generosity of the people.

Mr. D. A. Lane, 1432 Ivy street, is building a beautiful home in Pasadena for Mr. McNichols of Los Angeles.

Tomorrow, December the first, during the afternoon and evening, the Woman's Guild of St. Mark's Episcopal church will hold their annual bazaar in the guild hall of the church, corner of Louise and Fifth streets. The parcel post both should prove most interesting, as the packages have come from all parts of the United States, and do not forget to visit the "Amusement Goose," for he is great fun. Then, too, there will be pretty things of needlecraft and a booth well-filled with home cooked foods. The young women of St. Margaret's Guild have planned a pretty candy booth.

After Christmas is over there will be a few Glendale people who will regret that they neglected to take advantage of the season to do some deed of kindness to those less fortunate than themselves. Those who purchase tickets for the Christmas Charity ball to be held at Masonic Temple Thursday evening will not be among those who have regrets, for every dollar of the proceeds of this ball is to be used for Christmas gifts for the poor children of Glendale and those who contribute will have a warm feeling around the heart in the knowledge of a good deed done.

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. A. B. DeRoos, converted Holland Jew, delivered a delightful devotional message yesterday afternoon at the Baptist church. He distinguished between knowing Christ and knowing about Christ. It is the blessing we need more than the blessing. Christ delights more in our love and worship than in our feverish activities to please him. Rev. DeRoos has promised to speak again this afternoon at the hour of three.

At the evening gospel service Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, converted actress, made a tender impression as she told the story of her eventful life. Having traveled the wide world over, able to speak many languages, associating with the world's leading actors and sports, this poor French actress has finally found rest in Christ. Her beaming countenance spoke eloquently of the transformation. It was an evening never to be forgotten. Prayers are being offered on behalf of other leading artists. Mrs. Fitzsimmons believes that Bob Fitzsimmons will yet stand in the pulpit of the Baptist church a converted man with a story for Christ. At 7:45 Mrs. Fitzsimmons will tell what she knows about a life lived without God. This is a glorious work and a happy time for believers in the power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

WHO'S TO BLAME?

Editor The Glendale News:

Upon reading the account of the accident and the verdict of the jury, in the "News," said auto accident occurring on San Fernando road on Thanksgiving day, I was reminded of an old saying, "There is no such thing as an accident."

Whether this be true or not we will not discuss, merely to say, that upon my close observation, nearly every accident is due to somebody's carelessness or neglect. The above is no exception.

I remember when the low down bicycles were first invented; everybody wanted one, and every owner of one advocated better roads. They were built. Then when autos came into use a greater cry for good roads went out, and the result was marvelous for good roads. But to my notion they are not good enough nor safe enough yet.

Many a foot passenger has been run down on the "good" roads, and either killed or maimed for life, because there was no sidewalk for him.

Recently we voted on bonds to build another good road, but I voted no, because there was no provision made for the foot passenger. Plenty of the people's money spent for the pleasure of those on wheels, but no safety whatever for the pedestrian compelled to walk. A protected sidewalk should be made on both sides of every good road built. The people need it, and demand it.

No citizen should ever vote for good roads again, unless some provision is made for a double sidewalk.

People that own autos are foolish to vote for good roads without that provision, for even if there be one that has no feeling for the safety of the public, he should think that he himself might be held some time for murder or manslaughter, in causing the death of someone.

"I am my brother's keeper" is applicable to every one of us. By all means let us have good roads, but let us have the kind that are good and safe for the child to walk on with safety, and without fear of its life being in jeopardy.

Now, Dear Reader, can you see who are to blame for the death of Albert Alexander and many other persons?

G. W. JOHNSON.

GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY

The idea of a social half-hour before the regular 8 o'clock meeting seems to meet with general approbation; several newcomers to Glendale who feel rather forlorn and friendless have eagerly accepted the invitation to come and get acquainted. Let each member of the Garden Society, and there are now over fifty, bring some neighbor to the meeting on Thursday evening, and so add their share to the general sociability of the gathering. Be ready, too, to talk about your plants; if you have any superfluous seedlings, bulbs, etc., something you would otherwise throw out because you already have enough, be ready to offer them to some other member. Pass your blessings on.

Professor L. C. Schufeldt, director of 30,000 school-children in Los Angeles, in horticulture and agriculture, will be at this next meeting. He is an expert on gardens, and comes to help us arrange juvenile competitions in home gardening. Prizes will be awarded next spring. All parents interested, all young people who would like to know something about our plans, are invited to be present, and assist in this conference. Professor Schufeldt is a man worth meeting; he comes to the Garden Society out of the kindness of his heart.

A Spring Flower Show will also be discussed. We all have ideas on that subject; come and air them. Mr. Hartmann, member of the Chamber of Commerce, who has attended many of the American and European Flower Shows, will give us a ten minute paper on shows he has visited.

Amongst members who have joined recently are: Miss Elsie Arbuthnot, Mr. I. J. Jordan, Mr. Ernest Owen, Mr. C. M. Turk, Mrs. C. M. Turk, Mr. F. H. Eilers, Mrs. C. J. Orff, Mrs. H. N. Williams, Mr. Morris Caruthers, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. W. H. Hall, Professor Lowinsky, Mrs. McCord, Mr. H. A. McElroy. All these members joined at Headquarters. Other names have also been added to the society through members.

Miss Elsie Arbuthnot, who joined last week, is a former agricultural teacher of Santa Ana High school; she now resides in Glendale, and promises her hearty co-operation to the Garden Society.

Don't fail to come to the next meeting. It will be held on Thursday evening, December 2, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, 1011 W. Broadway. Regular meeting, 8 o'clock. Social half-hour, 7:30 o'clock. Come early, meet each other, and bring your friends.

PICTURES FOR ADVENT

During Advent the pastor of the Lutheran Church, the Rev. R. Warren Mottern, has arranged to give "The Story of the Life of Our Lord" in beautifully colored pictures each Sunday evening until Christmas. The series is in three sections, each complete in itself. One section will be given each Sunday night, beginning this coming Sunday at 7:30. Nothing can help us better to prepare ourselves for the joyous Christmas season. All invited. Let the parents bring the children. No special offering.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower of 922 Fairview avenue were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goddard of South Maple avenue, Los Angeles, very recently at a most beautifully appointed dinner party. Blue and gold was the motif used in decorating the various rooms throughout the house and the table, where covers were arranged for eighteen, the other guests being Los Angeles friends.

Mrs. Minnie Muller of Los Angeles was the guest over the week end of her son and family, Mr. Elliott Cresson Muller of 926 Fairview avenue.

Mrs. R. D. Greer of Ontario, Cal., is visiting her brother and family, Mr. A. B. Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue, expecting to remain here the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Renter of 930 Fairview avenue motored to Pasadena last Sunday where they spent the day.

Miss Virginia Olmstead of 1431 N. Pacific avenue left last Saturday evening for Portland, Oregon, where she will remain at least a year with her sister and family, Mrs. Ward B. Nash, planning to go to school while there.

Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and daughter, Miss Barbara, of Kenneth road, have returned to Monrovia after spending the past week with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Cresson Muller of 926 Fairview avenue enjoyed attending the Orpheum in Los Angeles last Saturday evening.

Mr. Nat B. Browne of 1620 Stocker street with a party of Los Angeles friends left Sunday evening for San Francisco where they will remain several days.

Mrs. Frances Bayard of the Frenz apartments was the guest of Miss Alpha Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Care and little daughter Fern were dinner guests of Mrs. Care's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown, of 913 San Rafael St. last Sunday.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Extra large congregations were present at both morning and evening service. All who attended were not only pleased but greatly interested and helped.

The Mission playlet, presented at the evening service by Mrs. H. V. Evers, representing the religion of India; Mrs. E. C. Schuyler, representing the religion of Mohammed; Mrs. E. O. Van Oven, representing the religion of Confucius; Mrs. W. D. McRae, representing the religion of Christ; and Mrs. E. H. Willisford, representing the seeker after the noblest and most uplifting religion, all performed their parts with much

MEMORIAL TO NATION'S DEAD

Across the Potomac from the city of Washington, D. C., a mighty structure is being reared, at the instance of a nation grateful to those who laid down their lives by land and sea to preserve the liberties of the country. To the casual observer the vast building which is gradually assuming its noble proportions resembles the ancient Coliseum of Rome. Its oval colonnade will be the place of interment of the remains of credit and ability. This means of presenting a great missionary lesson made a profound impression on the audience.

Mrs. O. A. Cowan of Burbank sang with great simplicity and effectiveness "Open the Gates." Mrs. Greeley Kolts rendered the solo, "O, Divine Redeemer," with beautiful power and sweetness. Mrs. Kolts and Mrs. Cowan delighted the audience with their fine rendition of the duet, "Forever With the Lord."

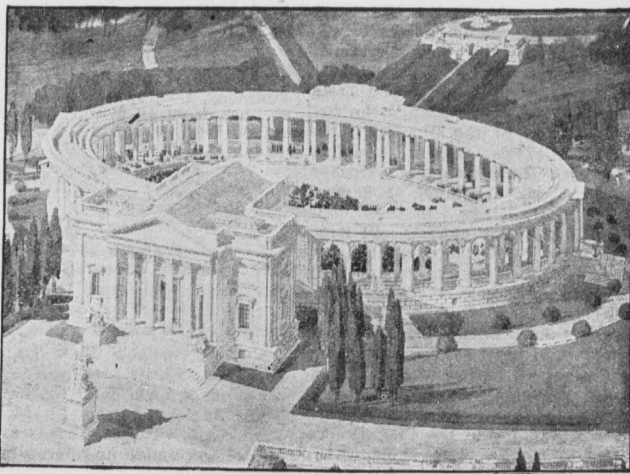

At the morning service the pastor spoke on "Vision and Faith." Those who were fortunate enough to hear this sermon speak of it as one of the very strongest, inspiring and helpful that Dr. Willisford has reached. The speaker used the text "Where there is no vision the people perish or are without restraint."

It was shown that in the realms of art, music, literature, as well as in religion this holds true.

The people were earnestly urged not to lose their vision of God and Christ. "You must buttress your vision by faith in the eternal. Sorry indeed will be the day when a person or a people lose their vision and faith in the great verities of life."

Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "What Are You Doing With Your Vision?" The Brotherhood will have charge of the evening service. Mr. D. E. Luther, the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles, will be the speaker. Mr. A. L. Miller with his harp will assist in the service.

those who distinguish themselves in the naval and military affairs of the country. This magnificent building, when completed, will be one of the grandest monuments ever erected in any country. There will be enshrined the memories of the centuries and the tokens and evidence of much thrilling history that has not yet been written. Such a monument cannot fail to become a national shrine and thither the feet of the nation will draw near to gather inspiration and courage.

The Arlington Monument

IN 1913 Congress appropriated $750,000 with which to build a memorial to the nation's soldiers and sailors. The work was placed in the hands of a commission of national importance. The site selected was in Arlington Cemetery—the famous burying ground across the Potomac from Washington, which was once a part of General Robert E. Lee's estate.

The vast Arlington Amphitheatre, as designed by Carrere & Hastings, will cover about 60,000 square feet of space. The elliptical colonnade will contain more than 100 massive columns. Within the oval there will be seats for 6000 persons. Beneath the colonnade, stretching out in either direction from the speaker's forum, a series of crypts will be constructed wherein may be buried the noted men of the army and navy. The spacious structure at the entrance will be used for a mortuary chapel and military museum. Its walls will be lined with priceless relics gleaned from many battle fields. This great national monument is being built of Vermont Marble from the quarries and shops of the Vermont Marble Company. More than 450 carloads will be required to complete it. The Vermont quarries began producing monuments in 1790—tablets that are standing today, still perfectly sound. The stone is already well known in Washington. The Red Cross Building—dedicated to the women of the Civil War—is now coming from these same quarries. From them have come also the Senate Office Building, the Mess Hall (Soldiers Home), the D. A. R. Building, and many other of the white marble landmarks which lend beauty and dignity to the nation's Capitol.

carries forward to the new heaven and the new earth.

The Psychological Order of the Canon—The history of the past is the wisdom of the present. Upon a purely rational basis the sage of the present can sanely forecast the evolving future; that is, there is direction in the events of time and just as two points determine the direction of a straight line so the past and present indicate whither tendeth the future. Furthermore it is not the quantity of historical facts which makes certain the philosophic inferences of the present, for history is largely a repetition. Rather is it the determinative quality of outstanding facts which yields the truth. These facts may be few in number.

With these observations in mind we come to the consideration of the psychological arrangement of the books of the Bible. We have observed that the first seventeen books of the Old Testament contain historical facts. The period covered in these writings reaches from Creation to the time of the Babylonian captivity and restoration. It would be far from the truth to maintain that here we have a universal history from the beginning to the Babylonian ascendancy; for while the facts contained are both stupendous and determinative, they are few in number and ever contracting in their sphere of observation from the creation of the heavens and the earth to a company of de-based Jews led captive by a foreign power. Nevertheless the facts are sufficient in number to reveal the truth which the overruling mind of the Infinite would have us discover; and these facts are of no value apart from the truth inherent in them. Consequently, the searcher after truth need not wade through ponderous volumes of history to arrive at the truth concerning God and man. The facts contained in the strictly historical section of the Old Testament are sufficient in number and of the necessary determinative value to lead to the truth.

It is self evidence that all truth is arrived at through the observation of simple objective facts. Taking the individual as an epitome of all human development we can readily see how, just as the child comes to be acquainted first with the external objective world and then with the internal subjective world, so the concrete objective facts contained in the historical section of the O. T. should precede the subjective inferential section. Objective facts first and the subjective theories is the psychological order of revelation. The point could not be better made than by a consideration of the position of the book of Job. This book is the first after the strictly historical books. In the preceding books, to put it mildly, we have a story of human failure. When we reach the climax of the captivity the pertinent question is, "What's the good of anything?" And this is the question which acts as a key to the book of Job. In this book we have the beginning, the captivity and the end of Job. In brief, the book teaches man to trust God and imparts the hope of a glorious consummation. It treats of the philosophy of pain. Bluntly expressed, it tells man to be patient for God knows what He is about. Now what more appropriate book could follow the ignominious history of the preceding seventeen historical books? Therefore the position of the book of Job must be determined not by chronology, that is, date of authorship, but by the psychology of revelation. Let us not interfere with the providential order of the books of the Bible.

Further Classification of the Books—We shall now construct two bookcases; one we shall call the Old Testament case, the other the New Testament case. In the Old Testament case we shall construct five shelves and in the New Testament case three shelves.

On the top shelf of the Old Testament case we shall arrange the first twelve books of the Old Testament, namely, Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy, Joshua, Judges, Ruth, I. Samuel, II. Samuel, I. Kings, II. Kings. In these writings the world in general and Israel united and divided occupy the stage of revelation. On the second shelf we arrange the next five books of the Old Testament canon, namely I. Chronicles, II. Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther. These five books give a partial review of some of the leading events of the preceding twelve, but they are written in reference to Judah and the City of Jerusalem. On the third shelf we arrange the next five books in order, namely, Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Song of Solomon. These writings are meditative or speculative. Job is a treatise on philosophy; Psalms is a treatise on worship; Proverbs is a treatise on worldly wisdom; Ecclesiastes is a treatise on is a treatise on love. In these five columns every possible phase of truth is treated, if not in full, then in germ. On the fourth shelf we arrange the next five books in order, namely, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezekiel, Daniel. These are books of prophecy principally from the viewpoint of Judah and Jerusalem. On the fifth shelf we arrange the remaining twelve books of the Old Testament, namely, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Nahum, Hab-

Introductory

By G. Irwin Royce

The show season is on and the breeders and fanciers in and about Glendale have become thoroughly imbued with the spirit, resulting in their making arrangements for a classy show, the entries to be limited to the quarter of towns, Glendale, Tropico, Burbank and Eagle Rock. The goods are here and they are anxious to bring them out for inspection.

Not to be excelled for quality the management has engaged nine judges, making it emphatically a specialty show. And further, a catalogue gotten out promptly after the awards have been placed will apprise the public of the winners.

Undoubtedly the San Fernando Valley is the most desirable place in Southern California for breeding poultry, with an even temperature, freedom from excessive fogs and sandy soil.

Well-bred varieties and more of them is our slogan.

In and about Glendale should be a fanciers' center.

It is very noticeable that the advocates of so-called "utility stock" are always reaching out after well-bred birds to mix with their mongrels.

We have the locality, the right kind of people, the birds and the enthusiasm. Plume up your pets and come to win.

We extend a hearty invitation to the public to see the neatest little show of the season. Let us demonstrate our proposition.

bakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi. These also are books of prophecy, but Israel and the world in general as well as Judah are prime factors of the narrative.

Coming to the New Testament bookcase with its three selves we arrange on the top shelf the first five books, namely, Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Acts. These writings are historical and Judah and Jerusalem are most prominent. On the second shelf we arrange the twenty-one epistles, namely, Romans, I. Corinthians, II. Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, I. Thessalonians, II. Thessalonians, I. Timothy, II. Timothy, Titus, Philemon, Hebrews, James, I. Peter, II. Peter, I. John, II. John, III. John, Jude. These writings are meditative. They occupy the same relative position in the New Testament that the strictly meditative occupy in the Old Testament. On the last shelf we place the remaining volume, namely, Revelation. It is a book of prophecy.

The Bible is the story of the cross and the crown. It reveals to God's children the mystery of the cross of human suffering. But more, "He knoweth the way that I take; when he hath tried me I shall come forth as gold." Job 23:10. After the struggle of sin and death the cross will vanish into a glorious crown. Today the master is saying "If any man would come after me let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Math. 16:24. At the end of the way we hear God's child saying, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day, and not to me alone, but also to all them that have loved his appearing." II. Tim. 4: 7-8.

BRIGHTER DAYS AHEAD

The November government crop report, made public since our last issue, makes a marvelous showing. Never before has mother earth been so bountiful with her blessing as the past year. Phenomenal yields of all grain crops are reported, and they are bringing war prices. Truly our country is being blessed with crop wealth as never before. And a demand is being had for everything, and at paying prices as a rule. Many of the leading crops with their estimated value are given below. While they make a great showing and represent $5,686,797,725, they do not tell the full story. Butter and eggs have been left out, and this crop may easily be put at $100,000,000. Oranges, lemons and grapefruit are missing, and they may be placed at $60,000,000 more. Then there is sugar and syrups, worth $10,000,000; grapes, other small fruits and berries with a money value of $5,000,000. Melons, too, have to be accounted for, and we will estimate them at $5,000,000. Here is $180,000,000 left off the government list, which added to the above makes $5,866,797,725. Still live stock has got to be accounted for, cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules, to say nothing of goats. This crop is easily worth $250,000,000. Then there is the output of our mines, gold and silver, coal, copper and iron, and oil must not be left out, giving us fully $150,000,000 per year. Grand total, $6,266,677,725.

No one can contemplate these figures without feeling that the coming year must be an unusually active one in the business world. They not only mean increased wealth for the farmer, but employment for many idle people, increased tonnage for the railroads and ocean ships, and freer living for all. They tell of the ending of depression and of brighter and more prosperous days ahead.—Pacific Fruit World.
